If the people of Eastern Lake Washington desire to be represented on the Board of County Commissioners by a home man, it is absolutely necessary that all aspirants East of the Lake should be eliminated except one. With one candidate we could go before the voters of Seattle with a demand which would be heeded. Not having a choice of our own, we cannot reasonably expect the electors of the city to make one for us. The time is at hand when we must take immediate action if we are to receive a local man for this important place. Hence if you are willing to cast your ballot for your favorite and after the votes are counted to support the person receiving the highest number of votes, we will be able to unite with a strong possibility of success. By means of this preliminary ballot every elector, man and woman, will be given the opportunity of expressing a preference. If you are in doubt as to whom you should support, talk it over with your neighbors. As the primaries are held Sept. 10th., the contest should close not later than August 1st., thereby giving us a month within which to make a whirl-wind campaign for our choice. You must confine your vote to persons East of Lake Washington. Vote for but one and but once. Give your name, place of residence and where registered so that we may know that you are entitled to vote and have voted but once. Remember when you vote you do so with your honor at stake that you will accept as your choice for commissioner for East Lake Washington the person receiving the highest number of votes. If you have a choice now is the time to make it. Each person receiving a vote will have his name published until the close of the contest. Your vote will be kept a secret. Whom will you have?

STRAWBERRIES
The News is pleased to note the receipt of 4 boxes of strawberries, 2 grown by Guy Holden and 2 by Mr. S. A. Hudson. These berries would be prize winners in the best strawberry section of the state. They were perfect in form, large in size and delicious in flavor. The 4 boxes were completely filled with but two layers of berries to the box. Is it any wonder that the Kirkland poet said:

Go to
Kirkland for health,
Kirkland for cheer,
Kirkland for happiness,
All thru the year.

PROGRAM

Fun by the Barrel

FAILS TO MATERIALIZE Miss Muller cannot be found

Following the annual custom, the children of the Methodist church will observe Children's Day on Sunday evening, June 16. The evening service will be entirely in the hands of the young folks, who are expecting to entertain a full house with their songs and recitations. Do not disappoint them; come and bring your friends.
Since our announcement last week that Maude Muller had entered the contest, we have been questioned as to the whereabouts of Maude's home. As Maude failed to give us her address of phone number, we have come to the conclusion that someone was trying to shove across a joke on us. We therefore shall divide equally among the bona fide candidates any votes that may come in for Maude.
A glance at the score below will satisfy anyone of the truth of our prophecy when we stated a while back that the opening of the summer would see a warming up of the contest. Already the thermometer over the contest editor's desk has risen to such a dangerous degree that we were compelled to hang just below it a picture of a polar bear on an iceberg. When Avondale, Redmond, and Bellevue get started we can look for a time beside which an I. W. W. riot would be as peaceful as a sewing circle.
Here is the lineup at present:
Lena Brooks ..... 60
Edna Wilson ..... 50
Harold Everest ..... 50
Read these rules carefully.

Each dollar sent in as one year's subscription to the News shall constitute ten votes for the candidate sending it in; or it shall be credited to the score of the candidate named by the person sending in the subscription. Each dollar collected on a renewal or for a delinquent subscription shall count ten votes the same as a new subscription. You may solicit subscriptions for yourself or anyone you wish.
No commission is to be deducted from any subscription. This office shall not be responsible for any subscription money not received at this office.
Each active contestant shall send in his or her list of subscriptions at least once a week.
The prizes to be awarded are two scholarships in the Acme Business College of Seattle. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall each receive a scholarship, provided that the winning candidate is not a past or present student of the Acme Business College. Each scholarship is good for a six months' course in any branch named in the College's advertisement found elsewhere in this issue. Each scholarship is transferable and the holder may enter school at his or her convenience.
From time to time we shall publish the standing of the candidates.
The contest closes on July 18.
Address all communications to the Contest Editor, East Side News, Kirkland, Wash.

MORE CONTESTS

Automobile Hill Climbing and Womans' Swimming Contests.
At the urgent request of some of the young women of the town, the committee on sports decided to give a prize to the champion woman swimmer in Kirkland on the 4th. Kirkland has quite a number of good swimmers among the fairer sex and from all indications this event promises to be a good one.
Dr. G. H. Davis has come to the rescue of the committee on parade and signified a willingness to look after the automobile feature thereof. The Doctor is an energetic worker and can be depended upon to do his part toward making the day a success. On Friday the Doctor visited the automobile houses in Seattle and secured valuable prizes. One will evidently be given for the best auto float and one awarded in a hill climbing contest which will take place on Market Street. Each contestant will take a standing start near the Kirkland State Bank and run against time up Market Street to a given point.
Mr. Farrar of the firm of Burke & Farrar Co., expects to be in the tub race at Kirkland July 4th.

DO YOU KNOW

That only twelve men turned out for work Saturday.
That those who contributed most financially to the 4th of July celebration worked the hardest Saturday.
That old soldiers, who, at the best, have but few 4ths. remaining, toiled all day Saturday on the grounds where young men in the town who will enjoy the pleasures of the day most, do nothing.
That those who are to receive financial benefit from the 4th were the willing workers while those to be benefited were conspicuous by their absence.
That nine tenths of the absentees express regret at their inability to assist in clearing the grounds but assure the executive committee of their intention to celebrate the 4th.
That only three Saturdays remain with a large amount of work to be done.
That the only persons to contribute financial aid without solicitation are: The King County Ferry crews, P. L. Peterson, N. P. Ward, V. J. Kaufman and A. T. LeDoux.
That Mr. Reader, it is your turn to work on the Picnic Grounds Saturday, June 15th.
That all prizes for the Fourth of July events were given by Seattle business houses.
Every able bodied man in Kirkland should turn out Saturday, June 15th, and assist to place the Fourth of July grounds in suitable condition for the celebration. There is a large amount of work to be done on the grounds. The speakers' stand and seats are to be arranged. Comfort stations are to be provided. In fact it will take every available person from now on to properly prepare for the occasion. Let us have a large crowd of willing workers Saturday.

SCHOOL CONTRACT

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.
The Board of Directors of School District No. 71, King County, Washington, will receive sealed bids up to 12 o'clock, noon, June 17th, 1912, at the office of the Architects, Stephen & Stephen, 726 New York Bldg., Seattle, Wash., for the erection and completion of a gymnasium and manual arts building to be erected on present school site in the town of Kirkland, Wash.
Separate bids will also be received at the same time and place for heating and ventilating equipment.
All work to be done according to plans and specifications prepared for the same by Stephen & Stephen, Architects, Seattle, Wash. Bids on general contract to be accompanied by a certified check made payable to the above mentioned School District in the amount of $250.00. Heating bids to be accompanied by check for $50.00.
If the contractor to whom the work has been awarded, fails to enter into a contract with the above named district and furnish a bond as required in specifications, his check will be forfeited to the district.
Plans and specifications may be had at the office of the architects.
The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids on this work.
GEORGE CHAPMAN, Clerk
A. B. NEWELL,

NOTICE
Strayed to my place in north Kirkland one Jersey heifer with fine calf. The cow and calf are now being cared for by Mrs. Matsek.
Mrs. Mary Bomey

The following are the rules of the contest:
This contest is open to anyone, without reference to sex, age, race, or complexion, whose home is in that section of King county lying east of Lake Washington.
Each contestant shall be known as a candidate. Anyone may nominate himself or herself or anyone else as a candidate.

BASE BALL

On the base ball diamond in Kirkland on the afternoon of June 9th., the Kirkland Terriers defeated the construction company's team of Seattle, by a score of 4 to 3. This game was fast and as good as many of the professionals. For ten long innings the boys waged battle. At the close of the ninth, the score stood 3 to 3. During the tenth great excitement prevailed. However during the last half of this famous inning the Terriers settled the question in dispute by securing the coveted run. During the entire game the Kirkland Military Band was seated in the grand stand playing National airs and other selections. Any lover of good music and good ball certainly missed a treat by not being present. In fact Kirkland has a band and ball team which are a credit to the town and are deserving of more loyal support from the citizens.

Wm. Terry and Charles Younger.
Mr. William Terry and Charles Younger, representing respectively the land and naval forces of Puget Sound, have consented to fight two rounds on the glorious 4th. It is understood that the ring is to be 75 feet in diameter and that each contestant shall wear not less than 50-ounce boxing gloves and keep, at all times, during the bout, a distance of at least ten feet from his opponent.

WHAT THE CANALS WILL DO

In the building of every great city there has always been some important factor responsible. With Seattle it was the superb location, coupled with the richness of the territory surrounding, and then, most important of all, the discovery of gold in Alaska.

Now consider that growing community on the East Side of Lake Washington—

KIRKLAND

Kirkland is today a thriving little city,—as was Seattle years ago. It has the same advantages that Seattle had then—it is the natural outlet for the rich mineral, lumber and food products of that vast territory east of Seattle. Kirkland is ideally situated. Over two miles of waterfront provide it with an excellent harbor,—

AND THE CANALS

ARE NEARING COMPLETION.

The Canals are the "Thing!" Large docks must be built to accommodate the great vessels entering the Lake. Kirkland is the logical place for these docks, because parks and private property forbid their construction on the West side of the Lake. As a consequence Kirkland will become a great commercial center—factories and enterprises will be added to those already there—every new enterprise will necessarily mean the employment of men, and thousands of happy, prosperous families will come to the city that offers them such sterling inducements.

Do you appreciate the importance of immediate action?

Then investigate. See for yourself—and there'll be no doubt as to your decision.

You will buy!

Beautiful view lots are at present selling for as little as $125. Little farms may be purchased for $250 and up. Close-in 5 and 10-acre tracts, within easy driving distance of Kirkland, at $65 per acre and up. Terms, $10 monthly.

KIRKLAND

The old Urania landing at the foot of Market street will be thrown open on the Fourth for the use of launches, row-boats and other craft wishing to land there.

Sand has been sprinkled in some places along the macadam road where the oil has been drawn to the surface by the hot weather of the last few days.

Since the strawberry season opened, the early morning stillness of the lake-front has been broken by the grinding of wagon wheels upon the gravel road. Dozens of wagon loads of berries have come up from Bellevue to go over to Seattle by way of the ferry.

The following persons have, during the past week, purchased Kirkland property thru the local real estate offices: John T. Whiting, Edwin Miske, O. C. Hoff, A. J. Blomquist, and Wm. Millikin, all of Seattle, P. G. Pelier of Vancouver, B. C., Messrs. Daroy and Simpson of Everett, A. Carlson and Wm. Rabideau of Adelaide, Wash.

Sure! The Kirkland Hardware Co. will sell you furniture as cheaply as you can buy it anywhere.

The East Side Building Co. has completed a house for Burke & Farrar on Bond street in the Fairview section of North Kirkland.

City water has been turned on thru the big new water main coming down from the springs. This line together with the new well flowing 600 gallons an hour, will guarantee a supply of water sufficient for some time to come.

Mr. J. R. Wester, a mining engineer with the Detroit Gold and Mining Co., of Morenci, Arizona, has been spending a few days in Kirkland with his brother, W. L. Wester.

Anyone seeing some huge snake-like tracks along our roads should not be alarmed. A. E. Grimshaw of the East Side Building Co. has purchased an auto and has been trying to master the art of guiding it.

Under the management of J. G. Barisch, Kirkland's veteran builder, the work on the Rose Hill school house is progressing rapidly. The roof is nearly completed and the heating system is being installed.

The stork visited the Lakeside Sanitarium one day last week and left an interesting set of quadruplets. The proud mother is Mrs. Patches, the house-cat.

A Swedish meeting will be held in the Rose Hill schoolhouse Sunday, June 16th, at 5 o'clock p. m. All Scandinavians are cordially invited.

FOR RENT—One 4-room modern cottage; good location. Inquire of Mrs. J. G. Smith, North Kirkland.

FOR SALE—One 1200-pound horse, 8 Jersey Duroc pigs, six weeks old, and one registered Jersey Duroc boer. Prices right. A. T. Churchill, Bellevue, Wash.

AVONDALE

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Howard returned last Wednesday from California where they went about four months ago, intending to remain a year, but they decided that Washington was as good as California, so they are back again.

Come to the Children's Day service given by the Sunday School on Sunday June 16. Bring a basket of lunch along and spend the afternoon visiting neighbors and friends. The program begins at half past 10 o'clock.

Crafty.
"Mercy, John! There isn't a thing in the house fit to eat!"
"I know, it Maria; that's why I brought him to dinner. I want him to see how frugal we live. He's my principal creditor."—Chicago Tribune.

Representative Government.
As far as we know, the first representative government that the world ever had was that which appeared in the case of the Roman tribunes. After a hard and long fight the plebeians (the plain people) managed to get a tribune whose business it was to represent them in the government circles. Before the creation of the tribunes the common people had no representation whatever in the lawmaking part of the government, the whole thing being in the hands of the patricians. From the Roman tribunes have sprung historically and logically all the representative devices that are at present to be found on earth.—New York American.

PROBATE NOTICE

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE State of Washington, for the County of King.

In the Matter of the Guardianship of Irving Ralph Dounergard, now Ralph Leroy Krumm, a minor, No. 14224. Notice of Application for Appointment of Guardian.

Notice is hereby given that Hans Dounergard has filed in the Superior Court of the State of Washington, for the County of King, a petition praying that a Guardian of the estate of Irving Ralph Dounergard, now Ralph Leroy Krumm, now residing at Vale, Malheur County, Oregon, and who has estate in King County, Washington, be appointed, and that Letters of Guardianship be issued to him, Hans Dounergard, and that Monday the 8th day of July, 1912, at 9:30 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the court room of the Probate Department of said Superior Court has been set for hearing said petition, when and where any person interested may appear and show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

Witness, the Hon. A. W. Frater, Judge of said Superior Court, and the Seal of said Court hereunto affixed this 29th day of May, 1912.

Japanese factory workers.
Of the Japanese factory hand the average "work life" is short, very few being able to last longer than five years; hence the rural population hesitates to migrate to the city when country employment is abundant.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on the 17th day of June, 1912, at the hour of eight o'clock P. M. in the town hall of the Town of Kirkland, a hearing will be had on the assessment roll heretofore filed for Local Improvement District No. 21. All persons desiring to object thereto shall make such objections in writing and file the same with the clerk at or prior to the said 17th day of June, 1912. At the said time and place the said council will sit as a board of equalization and at such hearing will consider any and all objections made thereto, or any part thereof, and will correct, revise, raise, lower, change or modify such roll or any part thereof or set aside such roll and order that such assessment be made de novo, as to such body shall appear just and equitable.

Done by order of Town Council, this 29th day of May, 1912.
J. S. COURTRIGHT, Clerk.

Misuse of Via.

A stroll through the shipping district gives many a wrench to the purist's soul.

"In front of all the commission houses," he said, "I see crates and barrels labeled 'via boat' or 'via train.' Why does not somebody tell shipping clerks that every time they write they are insulting the English and every other language? 'Via' can be applied properly only to the place through which a parcel passes, not to the means of transportation."—New York Press.

MAKE THE BEST OF IT.

Why not make the best of all the conditions that confront us? There are many people who continually contrive to catch hold of the thorny part of existence, to run up against all the sharp corners and disagreeable things. Half the strength spent in grumbling would often set things right. No one finds the world quite as he or she would like it.

A Popular Route.
"Is there any sure way of crossing the social chasm?" "Oh, yes; by bridge."—Baltimore American.

THE BEST INHERITANCE.

Strive to leave to your children an inheritance of which they may be proud. Property left to a child may soon be lost, but the inheritance of virtue—a good name, an unblemished reputation—will abide forever. If those who are toiling for wealth to leave their children would but take half the pains to secure for them virtuous habits how much more serviceable would they be! The largest property may be wrested from a child, but virtue will stand by him to the last.

TRUTH.

Truth is always consistent with itself and needs nothing to help it out. It is always upon our lips and is ready to drop out before we are aware. A lie is troublesome and sets a man's invention upon the rack, and one trick needs a great many more to make it good.

Earthquakes.
The average speed of the transmission of earthquake shocks is about 16,000 feet a second.

No, He Wasn't.
"Talk about luck!"
"What's happened?"
"I found a ten dollar bill in my last year's suit."
"Gee! Why, I thought you were married."—Toledo Blade.

REFUSES SICK

Specialist Loughney Turns Away All Who Are Incurable. This Is Their Rule
Flatly Refuse to Sell Their Absorbent Remedy to Any and All Whom They Cannot Benefit.

A number of cases are being accepted for the Absorbent Remedy, but a number are being turned away; are kindly but firmly told that their cases could not be accepted. It is the iron-clad rule of Specialists Loughney & Loughney to not accept any case for their External Absorbent Remedy unless they are sure it can be benefited. These specialists want the reputation of relieving every ailment they take, so they are very careful in selling their Remedy.

Specialists Loughney & Loughney are men who have devoted the best years of their lives to the study of chronic diseases. Not only are they graduates of the very best college of healing in America, but they have spent years in the diagnosis of the particular diseases which readily respond to their External Absorbent Remedy. During these years they have seen thousands of different cases and naturally have gained a great deal of experience. By the use of this knowledge and valuable instruments for diagnosis they are able to tell immediately whether the case is of a nature that they can benefit or not, without asking a single question. If the case is not one that will respond to their remedies, they will not accept it. This accounts for the fact that they make people happy and rejoice who had long since lost all hope of ever again being well.

You will do well to call on these Specialists if you are suffering from any chronic or deep-seated disease of the Nerves, Blood, Skin, Heart, Liver, Stomach or Kidneys, Loss of Nerve Force, Constipation, Catarrh, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Weak Back, Bloating, Dropsy, Eczema, Scrofula and all kindred ailments.

Here is the Offer to You.
Free consultation, free examination. Do not misunderstand this offer. You get the Specialists' services free. You pay $5 (five dollars) cash for the complete course of External Absorbent Remedy.

To prove to you that Chronic Diseases are their life study, and that they know the human body to the most minute detail, they will undertake to diagnose any case, in a few minutes, describing every trouble, without asking the patient a single question.

All those who are sick and ailing should take advantage of this liberal offer, which is made in order to secure a few difficult cases quickly, preferably one or two in each neighborhood, to prove what their External Absorbent can do, to rich and poor alike.

The remedy is applied over the kidney and small of the back, and in each case it draws out hundreds of pus-tules to the surface filled with puss and poisons from the blood. It is indeed a wonderful blood purifier. A number of friends and neighbors who are sick and ailing are now coming to the Loughney home, or writing, when it is not possible to come, and in each case they are given this new remedy at a remarkably low price. If your case can be relieved by the External Absorbent you can secure an entire course for the small price of $5.00, either personally or by mail.

Many who do not have the ready cash are making deals to get the remedy—some bring a couple of chickens, others potatoes or eggs. Raising chickens is the specialists' hobby, therefore laying hens, one-day-old chicks or fertile eggs are most acceptable.

All this shows that Specialist Loughney wishes to be neighborly, and if there is an ailing man or woman who cannot afford to get his remedy, let him come to the home and get it free, this, he believes, is benefiting humanity.

Specialist Loughney's Kirkland address is R. F. D. No. 1, right at the South Kirkland Dock. Hours from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

SHIP FLEES FROM VALCANO.

Disturbance Most Violent Ever Recorded in Alaska.

Seward, Alaska—Volcanic ash began falling here Monday in great quantities. Threatening rumblings that made the ground tremble could be heard throughout Cook Inlet, Turnagain Arm and Kenai Peninsula, and occasionally frightful explosions rent the air.

Seward, Alaska—Like a phantom ship, in her white covering of ashes, the mail ship Dora steamed slowly into the harbor here from the westward, bringing details of the great eruption of Mount Katmai.

The appearance of the Dora testifies to the hail of ashes which she encountered and passengers and crew escaped from death by asphyxiation as the steamer fled through the blinding rain of ashes to safety.

Those on board the Dora believe that several small fishing villages on the shores of Shelikoff strait were destroyed by the eruption. The revenue service at Unalaska has been asked to send assistance. A wireless message from the revenue cutter Manning reported all "residents of Kadiak safe."

The Dora was in sight of Katmai when the eruption began and those on the vessel witnessed a brilliant spectacle. Danger was added to their position when poisonous gases poured forth by the volcano filled the air, any persons aboard were almost overcome.

The first evidence that the volcano was preparing to awaken after years of inactivity came early Saturday when the Alaskan peninsula was rocked by a violent earthquake. The night before the Dora was at Cold Bay, only 15 miles southwest of the volcano, and across Shelikoff strait to Kadiak, when the eruption began.

Frequent earthquakes disturbed the water of the strait when suddenly a terrific explosion occurred in the distant mountain and a great mass of rocks was thrown into the air.

DOCTOR FLIES TO PATIENT.

Aviator Carries Surgeon Over Lake on Hurry Call.

Hammondsport, N. Y.—Campers and residents on Lake Keuka were surprised to see an aeroplane out Sunday afternoon. For some time past flying at the Curtiss aviation school has been discontinued.

The occasion of the flight by Aviator Robinson, who is in charge of the school, was a hurry call received by P. L. Alden, of Hammondsport, from Urbana, N. Y., where the 11-year-old son of Edwin Petrie, chief engineer of the Urbana Wine company, had fallen from a third-story balcony of a wine cellar and was seriously injured.

The physician called up Aviator Robinson, who promptly agreed to fly across the lake with the doctor. Just ten minutes after his call an aeroplane glided down to the water and ran up the beach in front of the Petrie residence, and from it stepped the doctor with his case of surgical instruments.

The boy's injury was a compound fracture of the thigh, with the bones protruding through the flesh. If medical assistance had been delayed, fatal results from hemorrhage might have occurred.

Grain With Extra Heads.

Chico, Cal.—Barley and oat-growing experiments by G. W. Overton, a rancher on Rock Creek, just north of Chico, have developed grains that may be adopted throughout the United States.

The experiments are considered so remarkable that the government has ordered an inspection of his process with a view of establishing his methods throughout the country. The feature of the new barley is that from two to five heads grow on each stalk, the principal head ripening first and being easily twice as large as the others, which are of normal size. The combined heads are about nine inches long, while the stock is tough and about as large as an ordinary lead pencil, standing against a heavy wind. His tame oats has an average of three heads to the stock.

Two Rear Admirals Die.

Washington, D. C.—Rear Admiral Benjamin Pfeffer Lambertson, U. S. N., retired, who, as Admiral Dewey's chief of staff, received the surrender of the officers of the Spanish fleet after the battle of Manila, died unexpectedly at his home here Sunday night.

Newport, R. I.—Rear Admiral William Henry Everett, U. S. N., retired, died at his home in this city Sunday morning. He had been ill for a long time with a complication of diseases.

Wife and Babies Burned.

Phoenix, Ariz.—With a story of how his wife and two babies were burned to death in their home near Tepic by roving bands of rebels, George Arnold Brown, an Englishman, passed through Phoenix on his way to Los Angeles, where he will lay a his case before the British consul. Brown said the rebels set fire to his hacienda near Tepic in his absence and his entire family perished. The rebels then drove off his livestock.

Hay Reports Good Crops.

Olympia, Wash.—Governor Hay, who has been in Eastern Washington, has returned to this city. He says prospects for a large grain crop were never better. In the eastern section of the state the fields are in fine shape, an abundance of moisture having been provided by the early rains. He believes that unusually large crops will be harvested.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT AND PROGRESS OF OUR HOME STATE

RANCHERS WASTE WATER.

Chief Engineer of Reclamation Service Predicts Change.

North Yakima—The basis on which the owners of irrigated land under government reclamation projects will pay for their benefits will be by the amount of water used instead of a fixed charge per acre within a few years, according to Chief Engineer A. P. Davis of the reclamation service, who has been in North Yakima the last week.

"One great difficulty and the cause of much of the drainage trouble on all irrigation projects," said Mr. Davis, "is wasteful use of water. Water is used greatly in excess of what is needed, the result is seepage and injury to lands on lower levels. I am convinced that if water had always been economically used there would never have been any need for drainage."

Engineer Davis came here in company with D. C. Henry of Portland, Ore., consulting engineer of the reclamation service, and they and Supervising Engineer Charles H. Swigert of the Yakima reclamation project went to Sunnyside to investigate the drainage conditions confronting water users in that part of the county.

The result of the investigation will probably be embodied in a report to the secretary of the interior and which probably will embrace a plan of extension of the drainage system already begun at Sunnyside.

About 15,000 acres near Sunnyside need drainage. The seepage which affected a large portion of these lands began long before the government took over the reclamation work in this valley. The government is not obligated nor has it funds with which to install a drainage system. In connection with the Sunnyside unit of the Yakima project, however, and incidental to that work the foundation of a drainage system has been laid and the government will co-operate with the landowners in planning an extension of this system.

FARM TRAIN ENDS TRIP.

Experiment Station Director Much Pleased With Results.

Pullman—The farm demonstration train sent out by Washington state college has returned to Pullman. The party was tired, but delighted with the results.

Professor R. W. Thatcher, director of the experiment station, said: "We talked to 3720 people on our trip and I am reporting to the road company that in point of shown and satisfactory results obtained I regard this as the most successful train we have operated. Some of the territory was entirely new. We had never operated a train between Coulee City and Connell, but had operated over the remainder of the lines."

"One pleasing feature was that our audiences in nearly every place were composed mostly of farmers. There were fewer townspeople than had visited previous trains. Those who came did so to learn and not from idiosyncrasy. I look for lasting results."

Rain Helps Lincoln Crops.

Davenport—With almost double the amount of precipitation this year over 1911, and an increase in mean temperature from 50.45 degrees to 53.8 degrees, May was exceptionally favorable to all kinds of agricultural products, especially wheat and fruit, which, according to the oldest pioneers, never looked better. During May 2.17 inches of water fell in Davenport, distributed in eight easy showers, and every drop fell into the soil already sufficiently moist for early crop needs.

Finish Metaline Survey.

Newport—Canadian Pacific engineers working on a railroad survey from Trail, B. C., to Metaline, where a connection will be made with the Idaho & Washington Northern railroad, will in a few days complete their preliminary lines. It is reported that a good grade, involving, however, some heavy rock and tunnel work, had been found.

The line strikes the Pend Oreille river at Waneta and continues along the north and east bank to Metaline.

Children Enter Vegetable Contest.

North Yakima—More than 750 boys and girls in Yakima county have entered their names in the potato growing contest being conducted under the direction of a committee, which includes E. E. Gustin, teacher of agriculture in the Moxee high school; County Superintendent S. S. Busch, Seldean F. Smyser, teacher of agriculture in the North Yakima high school, H. M. Gilbert and a number of other prominent citizens.

Plant Berries Around Newport.

Newport—The Newport Producer's association has completed the planting of 10 acres of strawberries and will, during the summer, prepare 30 more acres for planting next spring. In addition to the acreage planted by the association about 15 acres of berries have been set out by individuals in the vicinity of the association's property.

Gets $16,000 for Half Section.

Reardan—A. Howard has sold his half section near West Crescent to Henry Carstens for $16,000. The farm is one of the best improved in that vicinity.

WET 90,000 ACRES.

Judge Decides Formation of Reclamation District Legal.

Ellensburg—Judge W. O. Chapman, of Tacoma, sitting on the Kittitas County Superior court bench, has ruled that every step in the formation of the Kittitas reclamation district was legal, and then refused the temporary injunction asked by the plaintiffs against the high-line canal work. The suit was brought by owners of less than 4000 acres of the 90,000 acres of irrigable land in the district. Most of the owners of these 4000 acres were protesting because they claimed to have sufficient water from creeks.

They asked that the court issue an injunction prohibiting the directors from spending any more money or from selling the district bonds which will amount to $5,000,000. The owners of the other 86,000 acres in the district have been co-operating with the directors, and the filing of this suit caused excitement among the people of the valley.

Judge Chapman ruled that the plaintiffs have no standing in this or any other proceeding. That the question of their rights was determined by the county commissioners, when the district was organized and confirmed by the decree of Judge Preble, confirming all the proceedings for the organization of the district and all the proceedings of the district itself.

Alfred Battle, of Seattle, and N. C. Richards, of North Yakima, were the attorneys for the protesting land owners and Carroll E. Graves, of Seattle, was the attorney for the district.

The work of the district is being rushed. Two parties of surveyors are now finishing the topographical work and the classifying of the land, as well as running the final line surveys.

The work has been completed from the storage works at Lake Kachees to a point in the lower valley, and it is expected that the final engineering report will be ready in a few weeks, so that directors can advertise for the sale of the $50,000 bond issue.

Secretary Fisher, of the department of the interior, with whom the directors of the district have been negotiating for the storage water from the government storage works at Lake Kachees and Keechelus, wrote to the directors recently that the price for the water would be set shortly. A special engineer for the department recently made a trip to this district to compile data.

Within the borders of the Kittitas district are more than 100,000 acres, of which more than 90,000 acres are classified as irrigable. It is the largest irrigation district yet undertaken in the Pacific Northwest and will furnish homes for thousands of residents.

Lineman Gets His $20,000.

Olympia—One of the largest personal injury awards allowed by the Supreme court was sustained when a decision was handed down upholding the Spokane Superior court in the case of Patrick J. Murphy against the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, the damages being $20,000.

Murphy, employed as a lineman, was hurt when two poles between Pullman and Colton fell and he was crushed beneath them. The court says that the verdict, while large, is not excessive for a man who was in perfect health and capable of earning $3.50 a day, who is now "a pitiable human wreck."

For St. Paul-Seattle Highway.

Newport—The Newport Commercial club and the commissioners of Pend d'Oreille county are in receipt of invitations from the Kalispell, Mont., chamber of commerce inviting them to send representatives to a meeting of the commissioners of Spokane and Pend d'Oreille counties of Washington, Bonner county, Idaho, and Flathead and Lincoln counties, Montana, for the purpose of boosting an interstate highway from Glacier national park to Spokane, to become a part of a road from St. Paul to Seattle.

Indian Fair at Toppenish.

Toppenish—Following the building of a half-mile race course and a ball ground on the tract owned by Mrs. C. F. Bolin, 40 acres adjoining Toppenish, announcement is made that a roundup and Indian fair will be held this fall on the grounds, the biggest event of its kind ever arranged for the Yakima Indian reservation. Details will be in the hands of C. F. Bolin, attorney, of Toppenish, manager of the Toppenish Indians' baseball team.

Cruiser Coming North.

Vallejo, Cal.—Word was received at Mare Island that the cruiser Maryland would call at Portland to take aboard the Oregon naval militia for a practice cruise, beginning about June 15. The vessel will remain at sea during the period of the militia's stay on board, with the exception of two days, to be passed at San Francisco.

After disembarking the militia the Maryland will proceed to Tacoma, remaining there until after the Fourth.

Soldiers Use Postal Bank.

Vancouver, Wash.—After being in operation one year, the United States postal savings bank announces that there is on deposit a net balance of $41,666. There are now 347 open accounts in the bank. In May the withdrawals were $6735, much of this being taken to Honolulu by the First Infantry, which left here May 9. The soldiers are taking advantage of the postal savings bank.

Riot Ends in Election.

Santa Fe, N. M.—The house, after a turbulent session, in which members came to blows and the sergeant-at-arms had to clear the galleries of spectators to restore order, rescinded its resolution not to vote for United States senator and proceeded to re-elect United States Senator Fall for the next six-year term, beginning March 4, 1913.

PLANS HARD FIGHT.

Ex-President Hill Says Great Northern Will Fortify Self.

Spokane—The Great Northern and other Hill railroads in the Northwest will fight the Canadian Pacific and Harriman lines at their own game, according to a statement made in Spokane by Louis W. Hill, of St. Paul, ex-president of the Great Northern railway. Wherever either of the competing lines build into Hill territory, they may look for a retaliatory move on the part of the Great Northern.

"We are going to fortify ourselves as no railroad in the Northwest is fortified," said Mr. Hill, "by controlling with north and south and east and west lines all of the desirable territory of the great Northwest."

"We were the pioneers and we don't expect to lose our heritage. In Central Washington, particularly toward the Canadian boundary and across, we are going to absolutely control the situation. The vast tonnage of that country will be hauled by our lines, those which exist, those under construction, and those contemplated."

In regard to the situation on the Sanpoil, through the Colville Indian reservation, the railroad right-of-way of which is being contested by the S. & B. C., a Canadian Pacific property, Mr. Hill reiterated that the Great Northern would ultimately triumph.

"That is giving us little concern," said Mr. Hill. "It did worry us until I made my automobile trip into that 'neck of the woods.' Now I am sleeping better and worrying little."

Mr. Hill declared that the Great Northern will strengthen its position in the Palouse by acquiring new right-of-way and building a limited amount of mileage this year.

"We have secured terminal facilities for one of our properties at Lewiston and we have a right-of-way from Genesee to Lewiston. In that great wheat belt we hope soon to be materially strengthened," said Mr. Hill.

Further than to state that the Hill lines will push the Spokane & Inland south to Lewiston, Mr. Hill refused to commit himself.

"But take my tip," he said, "we are growing more secure in our position in the Northwest every day."

BAGGAGE RATE HELD UP.

Increase on "Excess" to Be Investigated By Commission.

Washington, D. C.—New regulations for transportation of baggage proposed by nearly every railroad in the United States, which, in effect, would advance the rates on "excess" were suspended by the Interstate Commerce commission. The suspension becomes effective July 1, and continues in force for 120 days, pending investigation. The new regulations not only sought to amend the excess rates, but to prohibit the carriage of certain size pieces of baggage. The proposed regulations follow:

"On and after July 1 for any piece of baggage (except immigrant baggage checked at port of landing) the greatest dimension of which exceeds 45 inches, there will be an additional charge for each additional inch equal to the charge for ten pounds of excess weight."

"On and after July 1, 1912, no piece of baggage, the greatest dimension of which exceeds 70 inches (excepting immigrant baggage), will be transported in baggage cars."

The commission believes that the fixing by the roads of the dimensions of baggage will work an unnecessary hardship upon travelers.

Irrigation Is Studied.

Washington, D. C.—The engineering work of the United States for the reclamation of the arid lands of the West is receiving the close attention of numerous foreign governments. Representatives sent by France and Germany now are en route to the West to study the work the reclamation service is doing there. An itinerary has been arranged for the visitors, who will devote several months to a tour of observation. The French government is represented by M. Dabat, director of waters and forests.

French Submarine Is Lost.

Cherbourg—France suffered another marine disaster and lost her fourth submarine when the Vendemairie, in the mimic warfare off Cherbourg peninsula, was crushed down by the battleship Saint Louis and disappeared in 150 feet of water. The submarine was undoubtedly ripped apart by the steel prow of the battleship and all hope of saving her crew is abandoned. An official statement issued by the minister of marine fixes the number of men aboard as 23, including the commander, lieutenant and ensign.

Ruef Is Not Paroled.

San Quentin, Cal.—Abraham Ruef's application for parole, backed by a petition from Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, was denied here by the state board of prison directors. The board based its decision, not on the fact that Ruef failed to win the signed support of Judge Lawler, who sentenced him, but on general grounds that this was not a fit time for the application to be made.

Fire Cost Totals $500,000.

Tacoma, Wash.—With a loss totaling near the $500,000 mark and throwing out of employment fully 500 men, fire destroyed the plant of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber company in this city.

FIRE AND LAVA FROM PEAKS

Alaskan Volcanoes Cover Land With Stones and Ashes.

Sea is Pelted With Hail of Red Hot Stones—Air Stifling With Sulphurous Gases.

Sitka, Alaska—Ashes from the Aleutian range volcanoes began to fall here Sunday, and the sun shone like a ball of fire through the cinders. Sitka is 200 miles in a direct line from the volcanoes.

Seward, Alaska—Four volcanoes in the Aleutian mountain range have burst into activity and are throwing out great quantities of smoke and hot ashes. The awakened peaks are Iliamna, St. Augustine, Redoubt in the Cook Inlet country, and Katmai, which overlooks Shelikoff strait. Numerous shocks were experienced here and the sun was almost obscured by vapor coming from the west.

Land and sea for miles in every direction from the mountains in eruption are covered with ashes. Lava and rock are pouring forth and devastating all in their path.

That all life on Kadiak island and the mainland has perished in the fiery rain belched forth is the belief of those aboard the mail steamship Dora, plying to points along the Alaskan peninsula and Kadiak island.

The Dora's master says that 1500 persons engaged in the salmon canning business may be dead, as it is the height of the canning season and large crews are employed. The Dora has arrived at Seldovia.

Mount Katmai's outbreak was described by the crew of the Dora as terrible in its violence. Deafening subterranean explosions, they said, are occurring at short intervals and the hail of hot ashes and monster boulders has covered the earth four feet deep.

The sea in the neighborhood of Mount Katmai, they reported, was lashed into foam by the plunging of red-hot missiles hurled from Katmai's throat into the sea. The vessel was struck by a number of small boulders and its deck was banked a foot and a half deep with ashes.

Shelikoff strait, from where the Dora fled, resembled a monster steaming cauldron. Smoke from the blazing mountain obscured the sky for hundreds of miles and the day was as night. So dense was the smoke the Dora's captain was obliged to steer a course 50 miles from her usual route in order to pass Kadiak island.

The wave indications in Shelikoff strait were such that the Dora's master did not attempt any landings, fearing that there had been a general shifting of the ocean bottom near shore. For this reason, as well as because of the smoke and ashes, the Dora did not dare to approach Kadiak.

Katmai has always been regarded as extinct. The natives have no tradition of any former activity of the mountain.

DOWIE'S FORTUNE IN BANK.

Widow in Want, Ignorant of Great Secret Hoard.

Chicago—While Mrs. John Alexander Dowie, widow of the late "Prophet" Elijah II, has been living in poverty, often in actual want, in her cottage in Zion City, watching the grave of her husband, for fear his successor, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, will have the body removed, a fortune in the name of Alexander Dowie has been lying idle in a bank in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Every Saturday afternoon for several years before his death Dowie would sit at his typewriter in his private office, write a letter to his foreign banker, inclosing a check for a large sum of money. In all, it is believed, he sent several hundred thousand dollars away in this manner without saying a word to his wife. Only one servant knew of these proceedings and this servant now has told the story.

French Submarine Is Lost.

Cherbourg—France suffered another marine disaster and lost her fourth submarine when the Vendemairie, in the mimic warfare off Cherbourg peninsula, was crushed down by the battleship Saint Louis and disappeared in 150 feet of water. The submarine was undoubtedly ripped apart by the steel prow of the battleship and all hope of saving her crew is abandoned. An official statement issued by the minister of marine fixes the number of men aboard as 23, including the commander, lieutenant and ensign.

HOW GIRLS MAY AVOID PERIODIC PAINS

The Experience of Two Girls Here Related For The Benefit of Others.

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 13 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 811 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years. I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."—Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoutsville, Ohio, R. F. D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

WORTH KEEPING IN MEMORY

Garnered Wisdom That Has Been Handed Down Through Generations of Housewives.

When making sweet croquettes add a little sugar to the crumbs in which the croquettes are to be rolled. Cold water is preferable to warm for scrubbing doors because it does not sink into the wood and so dries quickly.

Holding tomatoes over the gas flame will cause skin to burst and come off easier than when scalded, and the tomato will be less mushy than when scalded.

Neglected brass may be polished with a paste of powdered bath brick and oil. Take two pieces of the brick and rub together. This makes a finer powder than if scraped with a knife.

Cut hams may be kept from molding if the cut end is wet with vinegar each time after cutting. Vinegar will also keep beef fresh for a time when you happen to be without ice temporarily.

To frost over a window without darkening the room, dissolve Epsom salts in hot water and paint over the window while the water is hot, then allow to dry. This is easily removed and is entirely opaque while on.

Fringed cloths are often quite ruined in appearance at the laundry. They may be made to look like new for an indefinite period if, when they are starched, a little care be taken not to starch the fringe. Fold each cloth in four like a handkerchief and then gather the fringe of each part into the hand and hold it firmly while you dip the middle only into the starch. When the cloth is dry shake the fringe well and comb it with a specially kept toilet comb, and it will fall as softly and prettily as when new.

Chicken Spanish.—Chicken cut into small pieces and fried brown in its own fat and half cup olive oil; add clove garlic, medium sized onion, half can tomatoes, pepper, salt, five cloves, two dozen allspice, one bayleaf. Stew slowly one hour, adding a little water if necessary. Thicken with flour and water just before serving.

Spanish Summer Squash.—Fry in butter an onion and three green peppers chopped fine; add three ripe tomatoes and stew well, seasoning with salt and teaspoon of sugar. Add summer squash, sliced, and fry until soft.

Spanish Shrimps.—Large onion, six green peppers chopped fine and fried in butter; add two large tomatoes and cook well; then add a pinch of soda and cup of cream; then can of chopped shrimps.

Kitchen Line. A convenient clothesline for the kitchen or other place where a clothes drying line is sometimes needed, is rolled into an oxidized copper reel case about five inches in diameter. This reel screws to a wall or casing and a hook is put up in a casing on another wall. When the line is wanted it is stretched across the space between the two and is fastened by a ring over the hook, the reel meanwhile catching it automatically and keeping it from slipping. When the line is not in use it is out of the dust in the reel casing. The line is 24 feet long. It would be a convenience for the kitchen veranda or porch of the summer cottage.

Making Nut Muffins. Two cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cup of milk, half a cup of chopped nut meats, two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter and half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, then add the beaten yolks of eggs, butter and milk. Beat well, add the vanilla extract and the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Divide into buttered and floured gem pans, bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes.

Sit While Ironing. There is an old-fashioned prejudice against sitting down while ironing. Our grandmothers would probably have condemned the woman caught in this practice as hopelessly lazy—but why not do so, especially when standing at the ironing-board means tired, blistered feet and a frazzled temper? It might not be practicable to sit while ironing a dress skirt or anything requiring a long reach of the arm, but handkerchiefs and such small pieces can easily be managed while sitting.

Safeguard Against Moths. Gather wild yarrow, commonly called tansy; sprinkle freely among fur garments of any sort, as well as wooten material. Lock your wardrobe; feel perfectly safe that when opened next fall your furs are unharmed by moths. Equally good for the buffalo bug never fails.

Nut Loaf. Mix one cup bread crumbs with one cup of ground nuts. Wet with one cup sweet milk and one beaten egg; season with salt, pepper, sage; grate in some onion; bake 25 minutes; line for lunch.

To Clean Clothing. Take light bread and rub where there is a grease spot and it will remove it without leaving a mark, from men's hats or any kind of clothes.

THE SCRAP BOOK

WHY ARE THE ARMS CURVED?

A great many people imagine that the arms of flywheels and pullers are curved for the sake of beauty and graceful appearance. But this is not so. In the making of these wheels they are cast in sand from molten iron poured in. As the arms are of less thickness and body than the heavy rim and the hub they begin to cool quicker. By the time the arms are "set" the rim and the hub are still cooling and contracting, and the effect of their shrinkage is to cause a very powerful pull on the arms. As the latter are solidly set they become severely strained, but if the arms are curved they withstand the pull that goes on during shrinkage, and simply straighten out a little.

LIKED THE STUFF.

Escaping from their enclosure in proximity to a bar-room in Trenton, N. J., two geese poked themselves through the vacant lot in the back door screen, waddled straight as a die to the buffet, broke several bottles of liquor and consumed sufficient to make them indifferent as to the route home. They finally dropped under the barn, where they were discovered next morning by the saloon keeper, who found it necessary to give them cold baths to sober them.

NOT A DIVER.

The curious helmet and outfit worn by the workman in our illustration can be sometimes seen in the streets of London when extensive cleaning operations are in progress. The protective covering is used in connection with what is known as a sand-blast. Very fine sand is driven at a terrific rate by steam or air through the tube, and thus used acts as an effective cleanser for metal or stone work. In consequence of the danger from flying dust, etc., the strange diver-like dress has to be worn by the operators.

THE BRIDAL STONE. The stone in the accompanying illustration stands on the lands of a farm in Wiltshire, England. The hole in the center of the stone allows two people, standing on each side, to clasp hands. The story goes that in old days, when a man and woman were to be married, all they had to do was to clasp hands through the stone as depicted, and the deed was done. Hence the name "Bridal Stone."

TO PREVENT COALSTACKS FIRING The pipes protruding from a stack of coal, shown in the illustration herewith, serve the very useful purpose of preventing the stack from firing. When the stack is laid down the pipes are inserted, and drawn out at intervals. If they are hot the stack is demolished and re-erected; for it often happens that when a stack of coal is left lying for some considerable time heat generates at the bottom of the stack and leads to smouldering and combustion.

Looking Ahead. "Please, ma'am, will you give me something to eat? I haven't had a morsel today," said a tramp at a farmhouse.

"Why, man, what do you mean?" said the lady; "you got a large loaf of bread under your arm. Why don't you eat that?"

"If I did what would I do tomorrow?" said the tramp.

Good Voice for "Rags! Bottles!" He (at concert)—Yes, I admire Howler immensely.

She—I didn't think he rendered that last song well.

He—Oh, I don't refer to his singing. What I admire in him is his nerve.

PETERS KNEW WHEN TO LEAVE

Suburbanite Pays Evening Visit to Neighbor, But Takes Alarm Clock Along as Reminder.

The Smiths were strangers in a certain Jersey suburb and soon after their arrival Peters, who had some business acquaintance with Smith and liked him, took Mrs. Peters to the Smith home to call, says the New York Evening Sun. They found the Smiths thoroughly delightful and spent a pleasant evening. Time passed rapidly and when Peters reached home he was horrified to discover that it must have been after midnight when he left the Smith home.

Not long afterward the Smiths called at the Peters home and Peters hoped they, too, would stay until midnight to vindicate him, but they went home about 10:30 o'clock. Then Mr. and Mrs. Peters went again to the Smiths, and, as before, had a lovely time. In the midst of a pleasant conversation the ringing of an alarm clock made every one look up. Mrs. Smith seemed embarrassed, but Peters was calm. The alarm was one of the intermittent kind, and after the first blast every one settled down comfortably, only to have the ringing renewed almost at once.

"I am afraid some of the children must be playing with the alarm clock," said Mrs. Smith as she arose to go and stop the racket.

"Not at all, Mrs. Smith," said Peters. "I brought our alarm clock along in my hat with the alarm set for 10:30 o'clock, so we would have sense enough to go home. I guess it's time for us to say good night."

WHAT HE KNOWS.

Emercon on Woman Suffrage. If a woman demands votes, offices and political equality with men, as among the shakers an elder and elderess are of equal power—and among the Quakers—it must not be refused. It is very cheap wit that finds it so dreary that women should vote.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Rastus—Wal, not 'zactly, sah, but he carries a bottle undah his automobile seat, sah.

How She Figured It. And now let us insert the infantile anecdote of the day—the one of the biggest bunch that arrives! This is from a clergyman, so it must be new, true and moral.

"A little friend of mine," the dominie tells us, "came to me very proudly, the other day, to show me her Sunday school 'good conduct cards.' She had a lot of them. 'I get one every Sunday I don't miss,' said she. 'And I'm going to try not to miss for a whole year.'"

"That will be fine," I answered.

"And what will happen if you don't miss a card for all the Sundays in one whole year?"

"Why, then," she smiled brightly—"then I'll have a complete deck!"

Grounds for Divorce. A Cleveland lawyer overworks the telephone to tell us this one:

"A woman came up to my office the other day and wanted to know if she could get a divorce because her husband didn't believe in the Bible. I told her that unless she had something else on him there would be no use in bringing suit.

"But he is an absolute infidel!" she insisted.

"That makes no difference," said I.

"Doesn't it indeed?" she cried, triumphantly. "Well, you are a fine lawyer, I must say. Here's the laws of Ohio, and they say that infidelity, if proved, is a ground for divorce?"

Smiles Admit to Theater. Smiles admitted at a local theater last night, when Peter Knollenburg, a pioneer, celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday by inviting his friends to share the entertainment.

Posters were sent broadcast, announcing that every one with a smile would be welcome.

The house was packed.

At the close Knollenburg was presented with a high silk hat.

Wise Old George. She—And how did you like the meeting, George?

He—Fine. Especially the talk by that pretty little Mrs. Featherly.

She—On second thought, George you needn't go with me again.

Ever since then problem playwrights have been putting that fiction into the mouths of wronged husbands and building their "big scene" around it. But don't you believe it. There are four kinds: good women, bad women, good bad women and bad good women. And the worst of these is the last.—American Magazine.

Wouldn't Try It On Himself. "And you didn't know it was loaded?" "No, judge, I swear I didn't." "But before pointing it at the deceased, why did you not look into the barrel to see whether or not it was loaded?" "Why, Judge, that would have been a fool thing to do! It might have exploded and killed me."—Houston Post.

ARMY PREPARES TO TAKE FIELD

Transports Ready to Receive Troops for Cuba.

Will Back Up Navy in Maintaining Peace on Island—Protection Only is Object.

Washington, D. C.—The army took steps Saturday to share with the navy in the American demonstration in Cuba.

Early in the day the general staff gave a preliminary test to the machine it has constructed when it issued orders to the quartermaster general to put in readiness for Cuban service the four big army transports at Newport News, and at the same time notified the proper officers at the various army posts where are located the organizations which go to make up the "expeditionary force," to have the men ready to entrain at a moment's notice.

Within six hours word came from Quartermaster General Alshire that the transports had been put in commission with full supplies and coal and augmented crews and were ready to sail the moment the troops were on board.

Warnings have to be conveyed to the titular government of Cuba and every effort must be made to induce it to exhaust its own resources in restoring order.

Some of these steps have been taken. The following telegram was sent to the American legation in Havana for presentation to the Cuban government:

"Under the exigencies of the situation arising out of the failure of the Cuban authorities to take effective action for the protection of American life and property the commandant at Guantanamo naval station has been compelled to land four companies of marines. This action has been taken as a measure of protection only and not for the purpose of putting down the insurrection, which duty is clearly that of Cuba.

"Four large war vessels will be sent from Key West to Guantanamo to be in readiness in case the situation should demand additional forces for the same purpose.

"It is hoped that these measures will at once awaken the Cuban government to the necessity of promptly and adequately meeting and discharging its duties and responsibilities and you will vigorously impress upon the president of Cuba that a continued failure on the part of his government adequately to protect life and property will inevitably compel this government to intervene in Cuba under and in response to its treaty rights and obligations."

The issue of a proclamation by President Taft now is all that is necessary to meet the legal requirements preliminary to intervention. Whether this last step shall be taken depends upon the ability of the Cuban government to deal with the insurrection.

VOLCANO SPOUTS ASHES.

Heavy Explosion in Alaska Peak Followed by Signs of Eruption.

Cordova, Alaska—Volcanic ash fell thickly over this city all day Saturday, showing that the heavy explosions heard in the mountains the previous night were caused by an Alaskan volcano in eruption. The time between the explosions and the fall of the ash here was so short that it is believed the volcano is in the Redoubt or the Illiamna Mountains in the Cook Inlet country.

The cloud effect throughout this section of Alaska was unusual all day, dull clouds hanging low with a southwest wind.

The explosions were first heard at 7 o'clock in the evening and continued until after 2 o'clock next morning. The blasts were heavy and in quick succession.

James J. Hill Resigns.

Tacoma—Louis W. Hill, who recently resigned as president of the Great Northern railway, stated that he had received a telegram from his father, James J. Hill, to the effect that the latter has resigned as chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern in favor of Louis W. Hill. Mr. Hill and a large number of the delegates to the Northwest Development congress at Seattle came to Tacoma as guests of the local commercial club and chamber of commerce.

Largest Wool Clip Sold.

Billings, Mont.—What is said by Western wool buyers to be the largest clip of wool ever sold at one time was sold here by a Billings sheep company to a Chicago firm of dealers. The clip is 3,500,000 pounds and is the product of 400,000 sheep. To remove the wool from the sheep occupied 126 shearing machines one month. The price is said to amount to a little less than $750,000. The largest previous sale amounted to 1,500,000 pounds.

Lumber Rate Will Stand.

Washington, D. C.—The petition of the Southern Pacific company for annulment of an order of the Interstate Commerce commission fixing the rate on fir lumber and lath from the Willamette valley, Oregon, to San Francisco and bay points was disallowed by the Commerce court.

OPEN RIVER IS PURPOSE.

Panama Canal Machinery is Wanted for Use on Columbia.

Pendleton, Or.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Pendleton Commercial club was held here for the purpose of adopting a resolution for the initiation of a movement of all the commercial clubs in the state of Oregon to have the machinery of the government from the Panama canal moved to the Northwest, in order to open the Columbia river to the Canadian line and the Snake river to the American Falls and to open their chief tributaries as far as possible.

Dr. C. J. Smith, W. L. Thompson, of this city, and George Brownell, of Umatilla, and one of the chief supporters of the movement, were appointed by President Robinson as a committee to draft a resolution for immediate presentation to congress, asking that the government take immediate action looking toward a consummation of this movement.

The Pendleton Commercial club is the first club in Oregon or the Northwest to back this proposition, which was first considered May 29 last at a meeting in Spokane of the farmers of Idaho and Washington. At that time a similar resolution was adopted.

President Robinson said that this proposition will mean more to the Northwest than anything in this state's history.

An open-river campaign will be inaugurated, beginning in Umatilla county June 14, when W. D. Lyman, director of the National River and Harbor congress of the United States, will deliver an address here advocating the opening of the Columbia river.

LORIMER TRIAL BEGINS.

Senate Will Again Investigate Celebrated Bribery Case.

Washington, D. C.—The second trial of Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, on the charge of having been elected by corrupt methods was begun in the senate Thursday with a speech by Senator Kern, of Indiana, a member of the investigating committee, who signed the minority report against Lorimer.

Senator Kern gave especial attention to the plea that the case had been settled by the senate's vindication last year. That plea, he said, had been reached only at the last moment. He said he would not admit its validity; it had come too late, and the plea itself was "res adjudicata."

Reminding the senate that under the constitution it is the judge of the qualifications of its own members, Kern contended it was competent for that body to proceed at any time in any matter involving the integrity of its membership.

"There was no suggestion by Senator Lorimer or anyone on his behalf that the senate had not ample power to make a reinvestigation of his case," said Senator Kern. "He tacitly acquiesced in the senate's action. He appeared in person and by counsel before the committee during the investigation, cross-examining all witnesses called by the committee and examining scores of the witnesses in his behalf."

Kern said he believed the first investigation had been incomplete and had failed to develop facts which must have been accessible.

SHIPS TO CARRY WIRELESS.

All With 100 Persons Required to Have Two Operators Aboard.

San Francisco—R. Y. Cadmus, United States inspector of ship wireless telegraphy for the Pacific Coast, with headquarters here, has received notification from the department of commerce and labor that on and after October 1, 1912, all vessels carrying 100 persons, including the crew, must have two wireless operators and wireless apparatus with a radius of at least 100 miles. The inspector also was notified that after January 1, 1913, all ships carrying passengers must be equipped with wireless apparatus and day and night operators. Inspector Cadmus said the order was the direct result of the Titanic inquiry.

Falsehood, Says Gompers.

Washington, D. C.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said of Detective Franklin's testimony in the Darrow trial at Los Angeles: "That is an absolute falsehood, made of whole cloth. I do not know Franklin and I have never had any dealings with him. I did not send money to him or anybody. I do not handle any money. There is nothing to this and it is absurd on the face of it. I have documentary evidence which disproves his story."

Crater Lake Has Hope.

Washington, D. C.—Representative Hawley will attempt to amend the sundry civil bill to provide $50,000 for Crater Lake when the proper paragraph is reached in discussion of the measure. It is proposed from the friendly attitude of the committee at least some provision will be made in the bill for this park and strong effort will be made to get consideration on the floor of the house or amendment in the senate.

2000 Receive Degrees.

New York—Columbia University finished its one hundred and fifty-eighth year Thursday, with the graduation of what is said to be the largest class that has ever gone forth from an American university. Last year more than 1500 degrees and diplomas were conferred at the institution on Morningside Heights, and it is understood that nearly 2000 were graduated this year.

FARM AND ORCHARD

Best Floor for the Kitchen.

If you must have hardwood, avoid white ash, which splinters and turns gray. Maple has many admirers for its hard whiteness, but requires almost daily scrubbing to maintain that whiteness, and varnish wears off seemingly over night. Red oak has a rich tone and withstands use without screaming for the daily scrubbing brush.

My own preference, says Maude E. Hymers in Farm and Home, is for southern pine, stained and oiled (never varnished), since the wear of a kitchen keeps it constantly scarred, and varnish cannot be renewed in spots without having a patchy look. The only remedy is to remove it and apply a new coat, but varnish remover is both expensive and laborious to apply. Paint is open to similar objections, with the possible exception that it "patches" better.

Possibly the most permanent stain for pine is also one of the most inexpensive, consisting only of permanganate of potash. This can be purchased at any drug store, and needs only to be mixed with water, in the proportion of one-quarter ounce to a quart of water. Have the floor thoroughly clean and dry and apply the mixture with a brush, freely and evenly. If a very dark shade is desired, make two applications, but the addition of the oil makes it dark enough for most tastes.

When thoroughly dry, oil with burnt linseed oil, heated, or an emulsion of beeswax and turpentine. The former is quicker to apply, needing simply two soft cloths, one to apply it, the other to wipe away the superfluous oil. The latter, however, gives a higher polish and is rubbed to a beautiful luster. Either finish will repel grease spots.

In applying the permanganate of potash do not be alarmed if at first your floor takes on an undesirable magenta color; this will subside almost immediately, changing to a dark, rich brown, a genuine Havana stain, utterly impervious to water.

Make the Cellar Sanitary.

The cellar should be carefully kept at all times, but never is its thorough renovation more imperative than in the spring. Fungous spores which have lain dormant all winter are ready for growth with the advent of warmer weather. Unused vegetables stored in the cellar must receive attention lest decay render the air impure.

After all the food has been removed from the storeroom, all vegetable stores should be examined and such varieties as no longer appeal to the appetite should be at once removed. Potatoes will still continue as a household supply. They should be sorted and sprouts rubbed off.

In those parts of the cellar used for food or milk give the shelves and tables a thorough scrubbing with hot water in which washing soda, two tablespoonfuls to 10 quarts, has been dissolved. Pay as much attention to the underside of the shelves as to the upper. Wipe them with cloths wrung from clean water. Movable shelf boards, etc. should be carried out and laid in the sun to dry. The air should be allowed to circulate freely through the cellar.

The next step is to give the walls a good coat of whitewash, says Farm and Home. This is prepared by slaking two two-pound cans of whitewash lime in a pail. Put the lime into the pail, add water enough to cover it, stir it with a long stick and when it begins bubbling add a little more water. Let it boil without further attention. When this boiling has subsided, add water enough to make it of a creamy consistency.

Now go over the floor with a long-handled stiff brush, using warm water to which one teaspoonful of carbolic acid to every 10 quarts has been added. Mop as dry as possible.

How to Pack Eggs.

A clean stone jar holding six to 10 gallons is the best vessel for packing down eggs for family use, but a tight wooden firkin or other vessel will answer very well. The eggs must be clean and fresh. Dirty shells and cracked or spoiled eggs will injure and possibly spoil the entire lot.

Place the eggs in the jar as they are gathered and cover with a solution of water glass (silicate of soda) one part to 10 or 15 parts water. Cover the jar to prevent evaporation. Water glass is an amber colored liquid which can be procured of druggists or dealers in poultry supplies. It costs about 25 cents per quart, or less by the gallon.

Pure water should be used, rain water if you can get it. The jar should be placed in a cool cellar or room where it will not freeze in winter. According to Farm and Home, eggs preserved in this way will keep in good condition eight or nine months.

High Price for Rare Etching.

Collectors of etchings and engravings must occasionally pay high prices for their treasures. A Rembrandt print, "Jan Sylvius," signed by the artist and dated 1646, brought at auction recently $1,625.

After Fighting.

Mistress—And be careful, Norah, that my child doesn't fight that little German boy on our block.

New Nurse—Certainly, mum. Which nationality do yez want him to be after fightin'?

Little Helpers on the Farm.

Among the willing workers who work for nothing and board themselves are the birds, which have often been called "the farmers' best friends." They assist the farmer in three distinct ways—as insect eaters, as consumers of weed seed and as destroyers of large numbers of field mice, gophers and other rodents. Entomologists estimate that the destruction of agricultural products from insects amounts to over $500,000,000 a year. What it might be were not such a vast army of birds engaged daily from dawn until dark in making war upon these various insect pests can only be vaguely realized, says Farm and Home.

Among the birds that eat insects are the fly-catchers, warblers, swallows and chimney swifts, which live exclusively on insects. Many others, such as the blackbirds and several varieties of hawks, depend on insects for a large part of their food. The meadow lark has a large appetite for insects and in the course of a season rids the meadows and pastures of countless pests that are injurious to crops. Even the much-abused crow has a fondness for cutworms that almost equals his liking for corn.

As seed eaters some birds are most tireless. To this group belong the large number of sparrows. Many other birds eat seeds; in fact, most birds eat both insects and seeds in varying amounts. A large number of birds feed on field mice, gophers, ground squirrels, moles, etc., chief of all being hawks and owls.

Best Way to Set Posts.

After many years' experience I have concluded by placing the small end of the post in the ground. A post will last much longer than with the large end down. The reason for this is obvious. When limbs are cut off it always leaves a cup that holds more or less water, and where worms have worked the holes are always downward. These holes hold some moisture, but by placing the top end down this moisture runs out and leaves the post dry.

At first thought it seems as though the post with the large end up would not make a good appearance. However, says an expert in Farm and Home, I have generally found that the large end is the straight end, and frequently there is a crook at the small end. If this be placed in the ground, the fence when completed looks much better. I also have found that small posts for wire fence last longer than large ones, for they do not hold moisture as long. A post should never be reset until it is well seasoned. The end posts should always be placed in concrete; then there need be no bracing or anchors used.

FASHION HINTS

Ratine is the material used for this little dress. A touch of rather heavy lace on neck and sleeves is the only trimming.

Resentful Recollections.

"Did they make you recite 'Little Drops of Water' when you were a child?"

"Yes," replied Colonel Stillwell, "and it didn't stop there. When I grew up they tried to insist on my adopting them as a beverage."

Uncle Henry's Aphorism.

"Lean men usually have pessimistic leanings," said Uncle Henry Butterworth. "But the fat fellow who sits down and is a hull cheer full, usually takes a cheerful view of things."

The Quinceville Raffle
By LILLIAN CONLON

Ezra Higgins, editor and publisher of the Quinceville Bugle, sat in the back room, which served as bed-chamber, dining-room and general storehouse for overflow matter from the printing office in front.
"Something has got to be done right away," he muttered, as he finished his second cup of muddy coffee, "or the Quinceville Bugle will have to quit blowing."
He went through into the little office, sank into a chair, and abandoned himself to black gloom and pessimism. His eyes strayed over the desk and rested idly upon the Blatfield Gazook, just unfolded from its wrapper.
"What's this?" he exclaimed, looking at an item. "A quick road to wealth. Just what I need. I'll try a raffle like that, myself."
The next issue of the Quinceville Bugle created a sensation, which had not been equaled since Deacon Jones' daughter eloped with the visiting evangelist. Its first page bore this announcement in bold-faced type:

LADIES.
Do You Want a Husband?
GRAND RAFFLE
on
EZRA HIGGINS,
Editor and Publisher
Quinceville Bugle.
Description:
Bachelor. Forty-two years old.
Sound, sane and healthy.
Morals A-1. Kind and loving.
No kicker about victuals.
Mail This Coupon and One Dollar and Get a Number.

"It's scandalous!" was the general consensus of village opinion, and it was noticeable that the widows and the maiden ladies of uncertain age were the loudest in their denunciations.
"No lady would think of filling out one of those disgraceful coupons," they declared, with modest unanimity.
And yet, at 10 o'clock that night—time when the streets of Quinceville were usually silent and deserted—shy, fluttering figures appeared from every direction, proceeding cautiously toward the one mail box which the wlage afforded. Next morning the report that Ezra Higgins got five hundred and forty-three letters in the spread through the village like wildfire. The shy maidens of Quinceville were not alone in their appreciation of this unique raffle. Letters were pouring in from all over the county.

Ezra Higgins saw his financial troubles vanishing. But the coupons were numbered, and returned to senders. This job grew irksome, and he called the office boy.

"Finish up this job, Jim," he directed. "See, I've numbered up to 9. Do them all like this one, put them in the envelopes, and mail them."
Alas! Jim did not quite get the idea. He numbered every one of the coupons 109.

When the day of the raffle arrived the receipts amounted to nine hundred and eighty-seven dollars. Up to this time Higgins had given little thought to the end of the matter, but now he began to feel uneasy.

"Nonsense!" he reassured himself. "They'll never show up. There won't be a woman with nerve enough to do it."

But, as he consoled himself in this reflection, Jim burst into the office with a delighted whoop.
"Here comes the nine hundred and eighty-seven!" he yelled.

To Higgins' dismayed eyes there seemed to be millions of feminine forms coming up the street. Tall and short, fat and thin, young and old, gay damsels with fluttering ribbons, faded women in widow's weeds, and one black beauty in a gorgeous gown. Outstripping all the rest was an extremely fat woman in a brilliant red shawl.

"That's the Widow McCafferty she's had four already," chuckled Jim. "What shall I do?" cried Higgins, looking wildly about for a way to escape.
"Keep your nerve," counseled Jim

"Go on with your raffle. If you don't like the lucky one, buy her out."
Somewhat reassured by this idea, Higgins stood his ground, while as many of the women as could get into the little office, poured in, leaving the rest crowding and gesticulating upon the sidewalk. Taking a tall hat, Higgins collected every coupon. Then he beckoned to Jim.
"Draw one, and tell the ladies the number," he said.
"109," read Jim, innocently.

"Mine!" "Mine!" shrieked scores of voices, as the whole mob of women surged toward Higgins, each one waving her coupon.

Higgins grabbed a few of the nearest coupons and looked at them. Then, with a terrified yell, he dashed from the office, out into the shabby living-room, through the little window, and down the street. The women rose to the fray, and dashed after him, but, fortunately for the fleeing man, the Widow McCafferty was ahead. She made a valiant plunge, but her portly form stuck in the narrow window, and by the time they had dragged her out, several minutes had been lost by the pursuers. Once outside, however, they made good time, and such a stream of gasping, puffing, gesticulating femininity as eddied down the street was never again seen in Quinceville.

Higgins climbed stone walls, so did the ladies; he leaped over fences, so did the ladies; he braved the terrors of an orchard with a "Beware the dog!" sign, so did the ladies. At last the river spread itself before him, a broad, rushing current, shining coldly in the November sunlight.

"I can't swim, but I can wade," he thought.

He hardly felt the chill of the icy stream, as he waded out, so great was his relief.

"Come on," he shouted defiantly, to the pursuing band, now paused upon the brink. "Whoever gets me will have to come after me."
There was a pause, a silence, and then a mighty splash. It was the Widow McCafferty.

Step by step Higgins backed into his icy food. Step by step the widow advanced. She was taller than he was. When the water reached his chin, Higgins decided that life, even with the widow, was preferable to a watery grave.

"Brave one, I will not endanger your life by going further," he cried melodramatically, throwing up his hands.

"Sure, I could swim, me darlint," crooned the widow, as her strong arms closed about him.

FEMININE HAT A MENACE
A Theater Patron Finds a New Cause for Complaint at the Show.

It is to be the hat of the woman in front that troubled a man when he went to the theater," said the drama fan, "but now it's the hat of the woman in back that makes the trouble."
"I don't see that," said the baseball fan.

"Well," explained the drama fan, "they all take their hats off, you know; they're pretty good about that. But the hats are such freak shapes; now, last night, the woman who sat in back of me had one that was shaped like an oyster shell, only about a thousand times as big, of course, and just about that disagreeable on the edges. It was so wide she couldn't hold it on her lap, so she tilted it up on end, one end resting on her knees, and the other supported against the seat in front."
"In the seat in front, was I, and the edge of that hat brim, sharp as a frayed collar, rested lovingly along the back of my neck for the first two acts. At last I began to be afraid it was going to saw through and puncture the spine, so I bent my head back suddenly and knocked the hat off its perch. But I can feel that saw-edge yet. Look."

And, sure enough, when the baseball fan looked, there was the red mark of the saw-edge hat.

Some Snakes.
Too much good-fellowship and hilarity had dulled the once brightest wit of Jerryville, Ga., and he had fallen to vagabondage after having enjoyed a competency from the practice of law.

"Cheer up, Mark, old fellow," said one of his friends consolingly. "You'll get over this and soon be yourself. You ought to remember not to let snakes get into your boots again."
"That's all right," replied the melancholy Mark, "but I'm going to leave a burg for keeps. I'm going far away."

"Where do you think you'll go?" asked the friend.
"I'm going down to South America," complained Mark—"South America, where the snakes are too big to get to a fellow's boots."—Popular Magazine.

Looked Like It.
They were looking at the canvases exhibited in the artist's studio. Does this one represent a real escape?" inquired the portly gentleman with the double chin.

Yes, sir," answered the artist; at rude shack in the foreground a moonshiner's cabin."
O, yes; this must be the painting called "Still Life" in the catalogue."

A Terrible Year.
It seems to me this has been a year of disasters."

Yes, it has really been an awfully year so far. My husband sprained his ankle in March and the dresser has made such a botch of my spring suit that I don't believe I'll ever get it to fit."

LEOPARD MOTH CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE TO ORNAMENTAL TREES

Injurious Little Insect Was Probably Accidentally Introduced Into This Country From Europe Years Ago—Bores in Branches Just Under Bark and Cutting Large Galleries.

Adult Leopard Moths, Female at Left. Natural Size.

(By W. E. BRITTON and G. A. CROMIE, Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station.)
The leopard moth occurs in Europe and parts of Asia and Africa, and was probably accidentally introduced into this country from Europe more than thirty years ago, being first noticed at Hoboken, N. J., and later spreading toward the north and east along the coast.

The larvae or caterpillars cause great damage to nearly all kinds of shade trees by boring in the branches just under the bark and cutting large galleries, often across the grain, thus girdling them. Dead branches extending above the mass of foliage in the tree tops are a sign of attack, and many twigs will be broken off or withered during the summer. The pest has been especially destructive to elm and silver maple trees in the coast cities and towns of Connecticut, but is not so abundant in the open country.

The adult moths are dirty white, with semi-transparent wings marked with metallic blue dots. These have

PROPER CARE OF HORSE'S HOOF

Wall, or Crust, Which Seems to Possess Greatest Interest for Horseman—Rate of Growth.

All parts of the hoof, which is composed of a wall with its inflection, the bars, a sole, and a foot-pad, or frog, are of importance as regards the usefulness of the foot but it is the wall or crust—that part of the hoof which can be seen when the foot is on the ground which seems to possess the greatest interest for the horseman. It is subject to many defects and is very intimately connected with the retention of the shoe.

No natural division exists, but for convenience of description it is divided into toe, quarters and heels. The wall is thickest and longest at the toe, thinnest and shortest at the heel, a gradual decrease in thickness occurring from front to rear. The horn grows downward from the wall, secreting a coronary substance with equal rapidity, but there are certain conditions which influence growth.

Abundant and regular exercise, good grooming in keeping the feet picked out and washed out, preserving the moisture and suppleness of the hoof by retaining in its integrity the external layer of horn known as the perlepe, and at proper intervals removing the overgrowth of horn and regulating the bearing surface favor the rapid growth of horn of good quality, while lack of exercise and rasping the crust, which causes dryness and brittleness and excessive length of hoof, hinder growth. Perhaps good and bad feeding also have an influence.

The average rate of growth is about one-third of an inch a month. Hind hoofs grow faster than fore hoofs, and, as nature compensates for wear, unshod hoofs grow faster than shod ones. The actual time required for the horn to grow from the coronet to the ground, besides being influenced to a slight degree by the above-mentioned conditions, of course, varies in proportion to the distance of the coronet from the ground. As we have said, the wall is longest at the toe and shortest at the heel, while some feet are upright and blocky and others low, wide and spreading. At the toe, depending on its height, the horn grows down in from 11 to 13 months, at the quarters in from six to eight months, and at the heels in from three to five months. It is, therefore, possible to estimate with tolerable accuracy the time required for the growing out of a sand crack, cleft or fissure in the hoof wall, but the class of hoof that is the most liable to these defects—the brittle wall—is always of slow growth, and the general complaint with horn of this quality is that the feet do not grow.

USE DYNAMITE FOR FARMING

Blowing Up Compact Subsoil to Form Underground Reservoirs Has Produced Good Results.

Where the surface soil is underlain with a layer of compact subsoil or hardpan that is impervious to water and impenetrable to the roots of growing crops, the rain runs off quickly and the land suffers severely in times of drought.

Blowing up with dynamite this compact subsoil to form underground reservoirs has been tried with good results, says the Farm and Home. Bore holes in the ground two to six feet deep and from twenty to thirty feet apart, according to the nature and compactness of the subsoil and hardpan. About eighty sticks of dynamite are used per acre, which cost $1.50 with caps and fuse.

An ordinary two-inch auger with a long handle is used, and a half-pound stick of blasting powder is placed in each hole. The explosion breaks the ground all around for a distance of ten to fifteen feet, makes an opening at the surface eight to ten inches in diameter, and forms a subreservoir below the bottom of the hole from three to six feet in diameter, with the hardpan shivered into fragments. The openings and holes so created should be partially filled with sand or gravel to keep them opened permanently for the surplus rainfall. The work can be done in leisure time in dry weather. Largely increased crops result. The modern method of tree planting is to blow a hole for each tree with dynamite.

Plant Diseases.
There is no section of the country immune from plant diseases and troublesome insects. The orchardist and the gardener should provide spraying materials and be ready for any emergency. Some seasons may not require severe fighting, but others will require vigorous assaults.

Official Paper of Kirkland, and East Side Commercial Club

For climatic conditions, for scenic beauty, for dairying, for chicken and fruit growing, for investments, Eastern Lake Washington stands out superbly supreme.

The citizens are feeling quite jubilant over the abundant supply of water now forcing its way through the new mains into North Kirkland. Not only have the citizens a goodly supply of spring water for domestic purposes, but from all indications the yards and gardens will be well cared for.

Any person in the least doubtful regarding the productiveness of Kirkland soil, should visit the garden of N. P. Ward. For cabbage, potatoes, carrots, lettuce, beets, beans, peas, onions, strawberries, goose berries and other vegetables and fruits, this garden is good beyond expectation. It is well worth any one's time to visit Mr. Ward's home and learn how much of the very best can be produced, without water, upon a small piece of Kirkland ground. If you are the owner of an uncultivated piece of land, see this garden of Mr. Ward's and then get busy.

Mr. Dresen has certainly complied with the instructions received by the East Side Commercial Club in presenting a written protest to the board of County Commissioners against the use of the King County ferry slip by the Anderson Steamboat Company. Mr. Dresen not only sent the letter as directed, but was on hand Tuesday morning to enter his further objections. For two long hours, from 10 to 12, he fought it out single handed and alone with the commissioners.

Mr. Rutherford was the first to take exceptions to Mr. Dresen's remarks and vainly tried to find some plausible argument in justification of his actions toward the residents of the East Side. As

Hamilton, who never was accused by any one of thinking for ded Rutherford's remarks. Saturday evening, June 15, Secretary Dresen will report to the Club his many and varied experiences with the Lion in its den.

It pays to advertise Your Town

Our prosperity depends upon the growth and stability of the town. The growth of the town is dependent upon the manner in which we bring to the attention of the public our latent resources. Where can a more beautiful homesite be found? What country offers greater opportunities? Why not tell the people about it? We have arranged for a series of postal cards with beautiful views and terse descriptive matter of Kirkland and Eastern Lake Washington. When sending a written communication to a friend use one of these postal cards and thereby advertise your town, and surrounding country. You are invited to call and look at the display. MT. BAKER MARATHON, BELLINGHAM, WASH., JULY 23, 24 AND 25.

The second annual Mt. Baker Race will be run from Bellingham July 25, the marathon to be preceded by two days of motor boat and Indian canoe races. This spectacular mountain climb, inaugurated last year by the Mt. Baker Club, an organization formed along lines similar to the Mazamas, the Mountaineers, the Appalachians, etc., will be maintained indefinitely as an annual event. The race is open to all, and mountain climbers and long distance runners everywhere are invited to enter. Particulars will be furnished by the corresponding secretary of the Mt. Baker Club, box 395, Bellingham, Wash.

The race last year was won by Joe Galbraith in 12 hours and 37 minutes. Harvey Haggard finished 20 minutes later.

Bellingham, situated on Bellingham Bay, is the starting point of the race. From this city the runners who select the Glacier trail are taken to Glacier, 44 miles distant, by a special train, and from this point the contestant ascends to the summit of the mountain and returns on foot, a distance of approximately 30 miles for the round trip.

The entrants who select the Deming route are taken from Bellingham to Heizer's ranch by auto, a distance of 25 miles, from whence independent foot travel to the summit begins, the distance for the trip being about two miles greater than that on the Glacier side.

The exciting elements of the race are the speed of the special train and of the automobiles, coupled with the endurance and swiftness of the contestants in crossing the ice lines, glaciers and snowfields, and leaping the fathomless crevasses.

The first prize this year will be at least $500 and probably will be $1,000. There will be two additional proportionate prizes. If you know of a mountain climber or distance runner please call his attention to this item and ask him to write the Mt. Baker Club of Bellingham.

A Useful Woman. "Blennerhassett," said Mrs. Bliggins as he was about to start downtown, "can you let me have a little money to run the house with today?" "You can have just 50 cents," he growled, flinging the coin at her and slamming the door behind him as he went out.

"By the way, Bliggins," said a friend who dropped into his place of business an hour or two later, "will you go my security on a note for $500?" "Shortleigh," replied Bliggins, "it is an inflexible rule in my family that I must never do anything of that kind without consulting my wife."—Chicago Tribune.

The Tiny Electron. A striking description of that inconceivably minute particle the electron, which within recent years has de-throned the atom as the ultimate component of matter, was given by President E. F. Nichols. "Its behavior," he said, "is that of an atom of negative electricity pure and simple. Its form is spherical and not spheroidal. Its size is probably less than one ten-million-millionth of an inch. When revolving briskly enough in an orbit within the atom it gives us colored light of highest purity. When violently jostling irregularly about it gives us white light. Without the electron all light would be impossible.—Exchange.

In the building of every great city there has always been some important factor responsible. With Seattle it was the superb location, coupled with the richness of the territory surrounding, and then, most important of all, the discovery of gold in Alaska.

Now consider that growing community on the East Side of Lake Washington—

KIRKLAND

Kirkland is today a thriving little city,—as was Seattle years ago. It has the same advantages that Seattle had then—it is the natural outlet for the rich mineral, lumber and food products of that vast territory east of Seattle. Kirkland is ideally situated. Over two miles of waterfront provide it with an excellent harbor,—

AND THE CANALS

ARE NEARING COMPLETION.

The Canals are the "Thing!" Large docks must be built to accommodate the great vessels entering the Lake. Kirkland is the logical place for these docks, because parks and private property forbid their construction on the West side of the Lake. As a consequence Kirkland will become a great commercial center—factories and enterprises will be added to those already there—every new enterprise will necessarily mean the employment of men, and thousands of happy, prosperous families will come to the city that offers them such sterling inducements.

Do you appreciate the importance of immediate action?

Then investigate. See for yourself—and there'll be no doubt as to your decision.

You will buy!

Beautiful view lots are at present selling for as little as $125. Little farms may be purchased for $250 and up. Close-in 5 and 10-acre tracts, within easy driving distance of Kirkland, at $65 per acre and up. Terms $10 monthly.

The Evergreen Band scored its biggest hit last Sunday, when it played before a large local and Seattle audience. Seattle representatives insisted on a picnic next Sunday, which promises to be well attended. The band has engaged a very competent leader who is some snaker of a cornetist.

John Scutley is receiving a large amount of lumber preparatory to building on his recently acquired property. The Harris property has been rented for the summer.

The Thompson property is being improved in some style. More of this kind of industry is the thing we need. O. Nyquist is to move into H. Lang-don's house in the near future. He recently disposed of his house in Oregon.

My Dear Sir: For some reason unknown to myself, some person has seen fit to administer cut glass to a dog which I own causing terrible suffering and death. I am at a loss to know why such a brutal and cruel act should be committed. If any person holds a grudge against me, I ask that they deal with me as a man and not seek revenge by poisoning a helpless dog or any other stock which I own. I have tried to live the part of a good citizen. However, in any event, the animals of which I may be the owner should not be made to suffer for my misdeeds.

Respectfully yours, Edward Niblock.

BEATING THE EGG TRUST.

Milady in the picture is not selling eggs, but is preparing to knock out the egg trust, so far as her home consumption of preserved eggs is concerned, so that this simple story will have a special interest for the housewife who dislikes storage eggs and desires to lower the cost of living. Thousands of thrifty women are following milady's example—putting away fresh eggs in the cheap season in water glass (sodium silicate), to be used in winter, when fresh eggs are so costly and storage companies reap big profits on eggs often unfit for food. Water glass eggs are much superior to storage, and the method of preservation is so simple.

Note the picture. There are a pint of water glass, a three gallon crock and fresh eggs, none over two days old.

Pouring into the crock eight quarts of water, cooled after boiling, milady stirred in the water glass, then immersed every egg in the mixture and laid them flat in the crock until it was full, the crock holding twelve dozen normal sized, clean, hard shelled EGGS.

PRESERVING EGGS FOR WINTER.

The crock was then covered tightly and placed on a cool cellar floor.

At the end of a year these eggs showed little change, had no unusual smell, beat up into the fluffiest froth and made dandy egg custards and pumpkin pies. Eggs may be placed in the liquid a few at a time and used as needed.

The shell shows no stain, and customers are glad to buy them in preference to old frozen hen fruit. Better try the trick when eggs are low and save money when eggs are high.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

Thomas Quigley of Corning, N. Y., has a game rooster with a record to make a white bulldog green with envy. He put the cock bird in the coop at night, and next morning early the sport cleaned up the coop, killing fifteen fat pullets and a big rooster before breakfast. Next.

Twenty-five thousand egg consumers of Cleveland, O., struck against the high price of winter eggs. The hens, lured by the mild weather, increased their output, the price came down and no rotten eggs were thrown, though there were plenty being sold for fresh at 60 cents per dozen.

The idea that ostriches are a warm weather fowl is certainly exploded by the big birds at the Bloomsburg ostrich farm, thirteen miles from Riverside, Pa. The ostriches enjoy the zero weather, wade in the snowdrifts and lie down and roll in the snow like boys when the first snow arrives.

The belief has been exploded that a hen cannot lay two eggs in a day, and the authorities at the North American egg laying contest at Storrs, Conn., have the goods to prove it. Two trap nested pullets have already done the stunt at that egg laying competition, where 100 pens are hustling for the international honors.

Of 1,000 turkeys shipped in cars from Philadelphia to Wilkesbarre, Pa., 225 miles, forty-five were dead when they reached their destination. It was claimed they died from the cold snap. We have examined such shipments and in every case found the mortality came from crowding and ill usage. Excitement and starvation often kill birds cooped in such a big bunch.

The limit of conservation has been reached when Professor Surface, state zoologist of Pennsylvania, issues the ultimatum "Conserve the skunk." We advise Mr. Surface that the person really responsible for the slaughter of the innocents is not mere man, but woman, lovely, lovely woman, who wears skunk under the name Alaska sable. Instead of appealing to faucets and hunters he should appeal before women's clubs and sister societies and ask them to throw their protecting arm around the dear, harmless little polecats.

The authorities at Woodbury, N. J., have a hard nut to crack. A dorky was arrested with dead chickens in his possession. The crop of one contained a Woodrow Wilson button, and they were about to give the birds to a Democrat who had chickens stolen, considering the button proof of ownership, when two overall buttons were discovered in another hen, and as the Democrat didn't wear the blue they refused his claim. A Prohibitionist then claimed the birds, but as he couldn't account for the Democratic button the case still holds fire.

B. M. Barnitz BLEED ALMOST AT A TOUCH

Sufferers From Hemophilia Rarely Get a Chance to Live Long.

There is no accident of practice more dreaded by the physician than to see a patient upon whom he has performed some trivial operation such as lancing a boil or removing adenoids, bleed and bleed and die on bleeding, perhaps until he keels. All the usual remedies, such as pressure, cold and the application of styptics, and all the unusual ones such as tying a ligature around the bleeding part or searing it with cautery, are tried and tried in vain.

Fortunately, this accident happens rarely and can happen at only in the case of a new patient with whose constitution the doctor is unfamiliar, but when it does it

Hugo Liked Punctuation. In one of Victor Hugo's letters Baudelaire he dwells on his passion, perfect punctuation. As an instance of this Hugo mentions that he and his printers furnish him with elegant revisions of the proofs of "La Legende des Siecles," the last ten of which were required only in order that commas might be put in the proper place. Thomas Campbell was equally fastidious in this respect. He walked six miles to his printers, six miles back again to have a comma changed into a semicolon.
